VINOKURNYA NAROCH

Today, the Naroch Distillery is a modern and growing enterprise with a rich historical heritage. Its work is the result not only of decades of experience, knowledge, and production technologies accumulated over 100 years, but also the daily work of a team of professional, creative, and proactive individuals striving to combine traditional recipes with exceptional ingredients to create products of the highest quality.

Rich Story

1845

The starting point of the distillery's history is 1845, when Prince Sventarzhitsky, from a famous noble family of the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth, built the building of the distillery, the progenitor of Naroch Distillery LLC.

1905

In 1905, landowner Pikutsky built a new distillery building out of rubble stone and brick, powered by a steam engine. It operated until 1913. The building constructed by Pikutsky remains to this day.

1942

The first available data on the revival of distilling in the Mjadel region dates back to 1942, when 1,000 buckets of spirit were produced during the German occupation. Just three years later, production at the distillery increased to 30,000 liters of crude spirit per year.

2013

On February 14, 2013, the state-owned enterprise Naroch Distillery LLC was created on the basis of the now defunct (due to bankruptcy) enterprise Naroch Beverage Plant.

LLC "Vinokumya Naroch" - this team professional, creative and proactive people who ready every day to work over those, to traditional recipes combination With exceptional ingredients transformed products the highest quality.

Whiskey

Whiskey malt
"NARACH"

Volume: 0.2; 0.5; 0.7 l Fortress 43%

A unique Belarusian single malt whiskey with a pleasantly sparkling golden color. Produced exclusively from Belarusian malt, it is distilled in two stages. This approach results in a lighter, more refined distillate with a wonderful flavor. It is then poured into Spanish and Moldovan 50-dal oak sherry casks, where it is aged at a specific temperature and humidity for at least three years. This aromatic, distinctive whiskey, rich in sweet malt notes and creamy tones, gives it a dense, warming, and soft taste, with subtle hints of caramel, green tea, dried fruit, and spices.

Volume: 0.2; 0.5; 0.7 l Fortress 40%

Amber-golden Belarusian whiskey. The aroma is caramel and honey, with persistent notes of prolonged aging in fifty-gallon sherry casks, hints of morocco leather, light tobacco smoke, and notes of currant leaves and bread crust. Taste: harmonious, balanced, full-bodied, richly textured, and long-lasting, with nuances of oak and cedar, a light, fading almond bitterness, and a warming aftertaste.

Whiskey single barrel single malt
"NARACH Single Barrel"

Volume: 0.7; Fortress 43%

Naroch single malt whiskey is produced from individual casks; each bottle is part of a limited edition, with the cask and bottle numbers indicated on the label. The whiskey is matured in oak casks previously used for Moldovan sherry wines, manufactured using a special technique and used for over twenty years. During aging, the oak imbues the whiskey with aromas of vanilla, cinnamon, cloves, tea, tobacco, wood, and sweet caramel notes. Internal charring of the medium-plus cask gives the whisky chocolate nuances, a rounded, dense flavor, and light smoky notes.
